Distinct Grande Duo Tables

Drawing inspiration from Japanese minimalism, the Distinct Grande Duo Tables explore the creation of complex structures based on a single element. Consisting of two separate tables that form a cohesive piece in varying levels when used together, they can also be used on their own throughout your home – the choice is yours. Made entirely from travertine, the minimalist construction of the tables is contrasted by the richness of the stone’s earthy texture, highlighting their architectural expression.

Distinct Side Table

Originally inspired by Japanese minimalism, the Distinct Side Table explores the creation of complex structures based on a single element, the minimalist construction contrasting the richness of the material's texture. For the travertine tables, the natural and diverse qualities of the sand-coloured limestone provides a rawness and tangibility that highlights the architectural character of the piece. The colours of the acrylic stone table brings to mind an abstract Neoplasticism, which accentuates its overall composition and enables radically different expressions of the plates while being a highly durable material.
